DRINKING AND LIVING

How serious is the drinking and driving problem?

Drinking is involved in one out of four fatal traffic accidents, according to the National Safety Council.

Assuming that this figure is correct, the elimination of "drinking and driving" would reduce the number of injuries and fatal accidents by approximately 213,900 per year and would save between 9,000 and 10,000 lives annually. It would prevent approximately 313,000 personal injuries per year (not counting accidents involving property damage only).

There were 31,100 fatal traffic accidents in the United States in 1955 involving 43,000 drivers. When completed, 1955 figures will be about 8 per cent higher. There were 820,000 non-fatal injury accidents involving 1,350,000 drivers.

A recent National Safety Council report says that 609 "immediate motor vehicle traffic deaths" occurred over the 1955 Christmas week-end. "Drinking drivers were involved in nearly 56 per cent of the fatal accidents," the report says.

In the nation's capital studies just completed by the Department of Vehicles and Traffic show that 35 per cent of the 1955 fatalities involved persons who had been drinking. Delaware State Police say 63 per cent of their 1955 fatal crashes involved some degree of drinking.

Vermont, Maryland and Texas officials have set the drinking and driving death percentage at 50 per cent or over.

Ray Hill, Secretary of the National Safety Council Committee on Tests for Intoxication, declares that public education is the most important means toward curtailing the drinking-driving slaughter, with strong law enforcement running a close second.

On the educational front he asks the support of schools, public organizations and public information media in telling people the facts about "the effect of alcohol on the human mind and body and its effects on the driver's ability to control his car."

He has a special message for the churches.

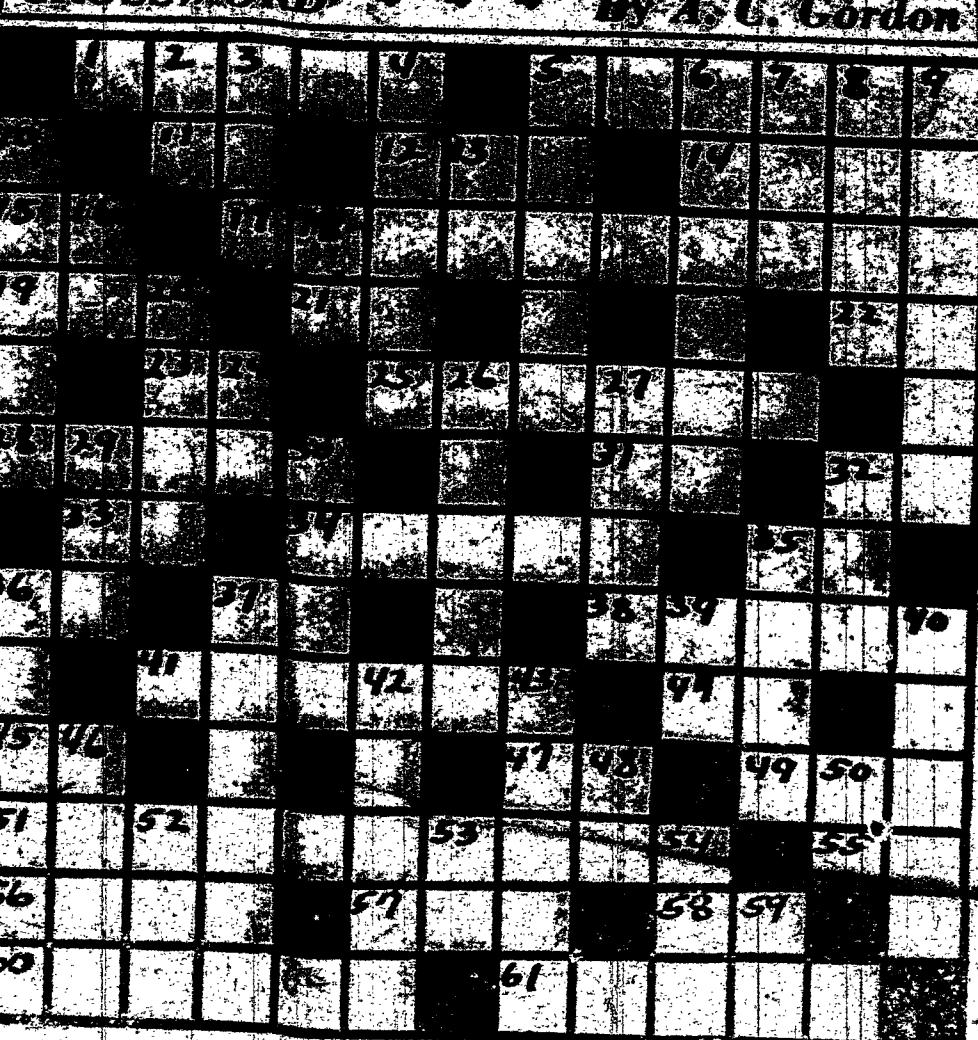

"Churches have a real responsibility to tell the facts to their members and particularly the young people who are members of Sunday School classes and youth groups as well as adult organizations like men's clubs and ladies' aids and auxiliary groups."

"The church has the best opportunity to influence and mold thinking in the home. Ministers are the spiritual leaders and should accept their responsibility for calling attention to this grave problem of the driver who imbibes and then drives."

As for enforcement, Hill advocates strict laws and penalties that will stick. He says that too often the courts and juries back down on a drinking-driving case because of sympathy or a "lack of evidence."

Congress has become quite concerned over the increase in traffic deaths and has authorized a full-scale study of the factors involved in traffic accidents.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Janie Langstrand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Langstrand, celebrated her high birthday on Monday with a party at her home.

"Put the Tail on the Donkey" and a candy hunt were the feature attractions of the afternoon. Misses Dottie Nell Rausch and Mary Ellen Murphy were the lucky prizewinners.

The dining room of the home where the refreshments were served was gaily decorated with balloons in varied colors suspended from the ceiling which were later given to the guests as party favors.

The table was centered with a chandelier, one white and one chocolate cake topped with five pink candles. They were cut and served with ice cream and candy.

About twelve guests were present.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Jim Morlan, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Morlan, Carroll Avenue, celebrated his fifth birthday last Thursday with a

A Red Cross orientation course was given for members of Delta Sigma Chi Sorority.

Volunteers also assisted other chapter committees in the fund campaign and in the Red Cross Disaster Institute, held in Bay St. Louis.

SOUTHERN SAMPLERS

BY CHRISTOPHER BELL

As the season passes the midway mark, Major League baseball has two of the hottest races in history going.

In the National, the incomparable hitting of Ted Kuszewski, Wally Post and Gus Bell has brought the Cincinnati Reds to the top of a power packed league. Following in close pursuit are the Milwaukee Braves, who have the best balanced team in the loop, and the Brooklyn Dodgers who are still the most dangerous club in baseball.

In fourth and fifth places are the St. Louis Cardinals and the up-and-coming Pittsburgh Pirates, who are in striking distance of the front runners. The tightness of this race has made the turnstiles click around the circuit as never before, and by October attendance marks will probably be broken in half a dozen parks.

In the American, the superb pitching of Billy (The Kid) Pierce, Dick Donovan and Jack Harshman has kept

J. Cyril Glover ARC Chairman; Reports Made

Officers of the Hancock County Chapter, American Red Cross were re-elected to serve another year and were installed in office at the organization's annual meeting held at the Court House June 25.

They are Cyril Glover, chairman; Kenneth W. Pepperdine, 1st vice-chairman; O. P. Adams, 2nd vice-chairman; Mrs. Lucy McDonald, secretary; and Alvin Genn, treasurer. Serving on the nominating committee were Mrs. Sue Goldman, Mrs. Rebecca Seal and Mrs. Gerry Gex.

Annual reports on chapter activities from July 1955 to July 1956, were submitted by chairman of the various service groups, as follows:

1956 Fund Campaign Report. K. W. Pepperdine, Chairman. Campaign Period March 1-31 (extended to April 15) Our assigned quota was $4885.00. Of this, $340.00 had been added as Hancock County Chapter's share towards $8,000,000 additional requirement for disaster work above normal collections to be made during the Campaign for 1956. This was due to the exceptional disaster year 1955.

This quota, assigned by national headquarters, is divided as follows:

Chapter Requirements $3050.00 - 62.7 per cent.
Chapter's share of National Requirements. 1835.00 - 37.2 per cent.

Total $4885.00 - 100.0 percent.
We closed the campaign April 15, with a total raised of $4045.07. Based on above percentage, Chapter retained $2536.28. Forwarded National $1508.81. Total $4045.07.

We are $513.76 short on local chapter requirements and $306.19 short on National requirements, or $819.93 short of meeting the quota.

Collection figures: 998 individual contributions of $1.00 or more, 108 contributions from business houses and organizations.

Due to the shortage of funds, it was necessary to reduce our operational budget from $3050.00 to $2476.00 for the 1955-57 Fiscal Year. Since the chapter failed to reach its quota last year also, it was necessary to use part of the funds collected this year in March to complete the 1955-56 fiscal period ending June 30. We, therefore, actually have a deficit of $243.00 in this year's funds allocated in the revised budget.

Failure to meet our quota means that reduction in chapter activity has been necessary. As fund chairman, I regret very much our failure to raise the quota. We sincerely hope the public will realize that without the full support of the entire community which the chapter serves, it will be impossible to carry on a full program as in past years.

BAPTISTS BELIEVE ... A SYMBOL, NOT A SACRAMENT

Baptists do not call the Lord's Supper a "sacrament." To them, "sacrament" suggests a meaning foreign to New Testament teaching by suggesting that the act itself brings the individual salvation from his sin. Baptists prefer to call the supper an "ordinance"—something established by the Lord. Rightly observed, however, the Lord's Supper is worship on the highest level and has a very sacred meaning.

The Lord's Supper is a memorial of love. Jesus said "This do in remembrance of me" (1 Corinthians 11:24). He wanted it to remind Christians of his sacrifice for their sins. It is indeed a memorial of his self-giving on the cross. The supper declares the amazing love of Christ in giving his body and shedding his blood to reclaim men for God. Its observance, therefore, declares the grateful love of those who have been restored to God through his death. They keep this ordinance in joyful obedience to honor the Saviour.

The Lord's Supper is a symbol. It is really a dramatic sermon; it is truth in a picture. When Jesus said of the bread, "This is my body," he meant that it represented his body. Likewise he spoke of the cup: it represented his blood poured out for the forgiveness of sins.

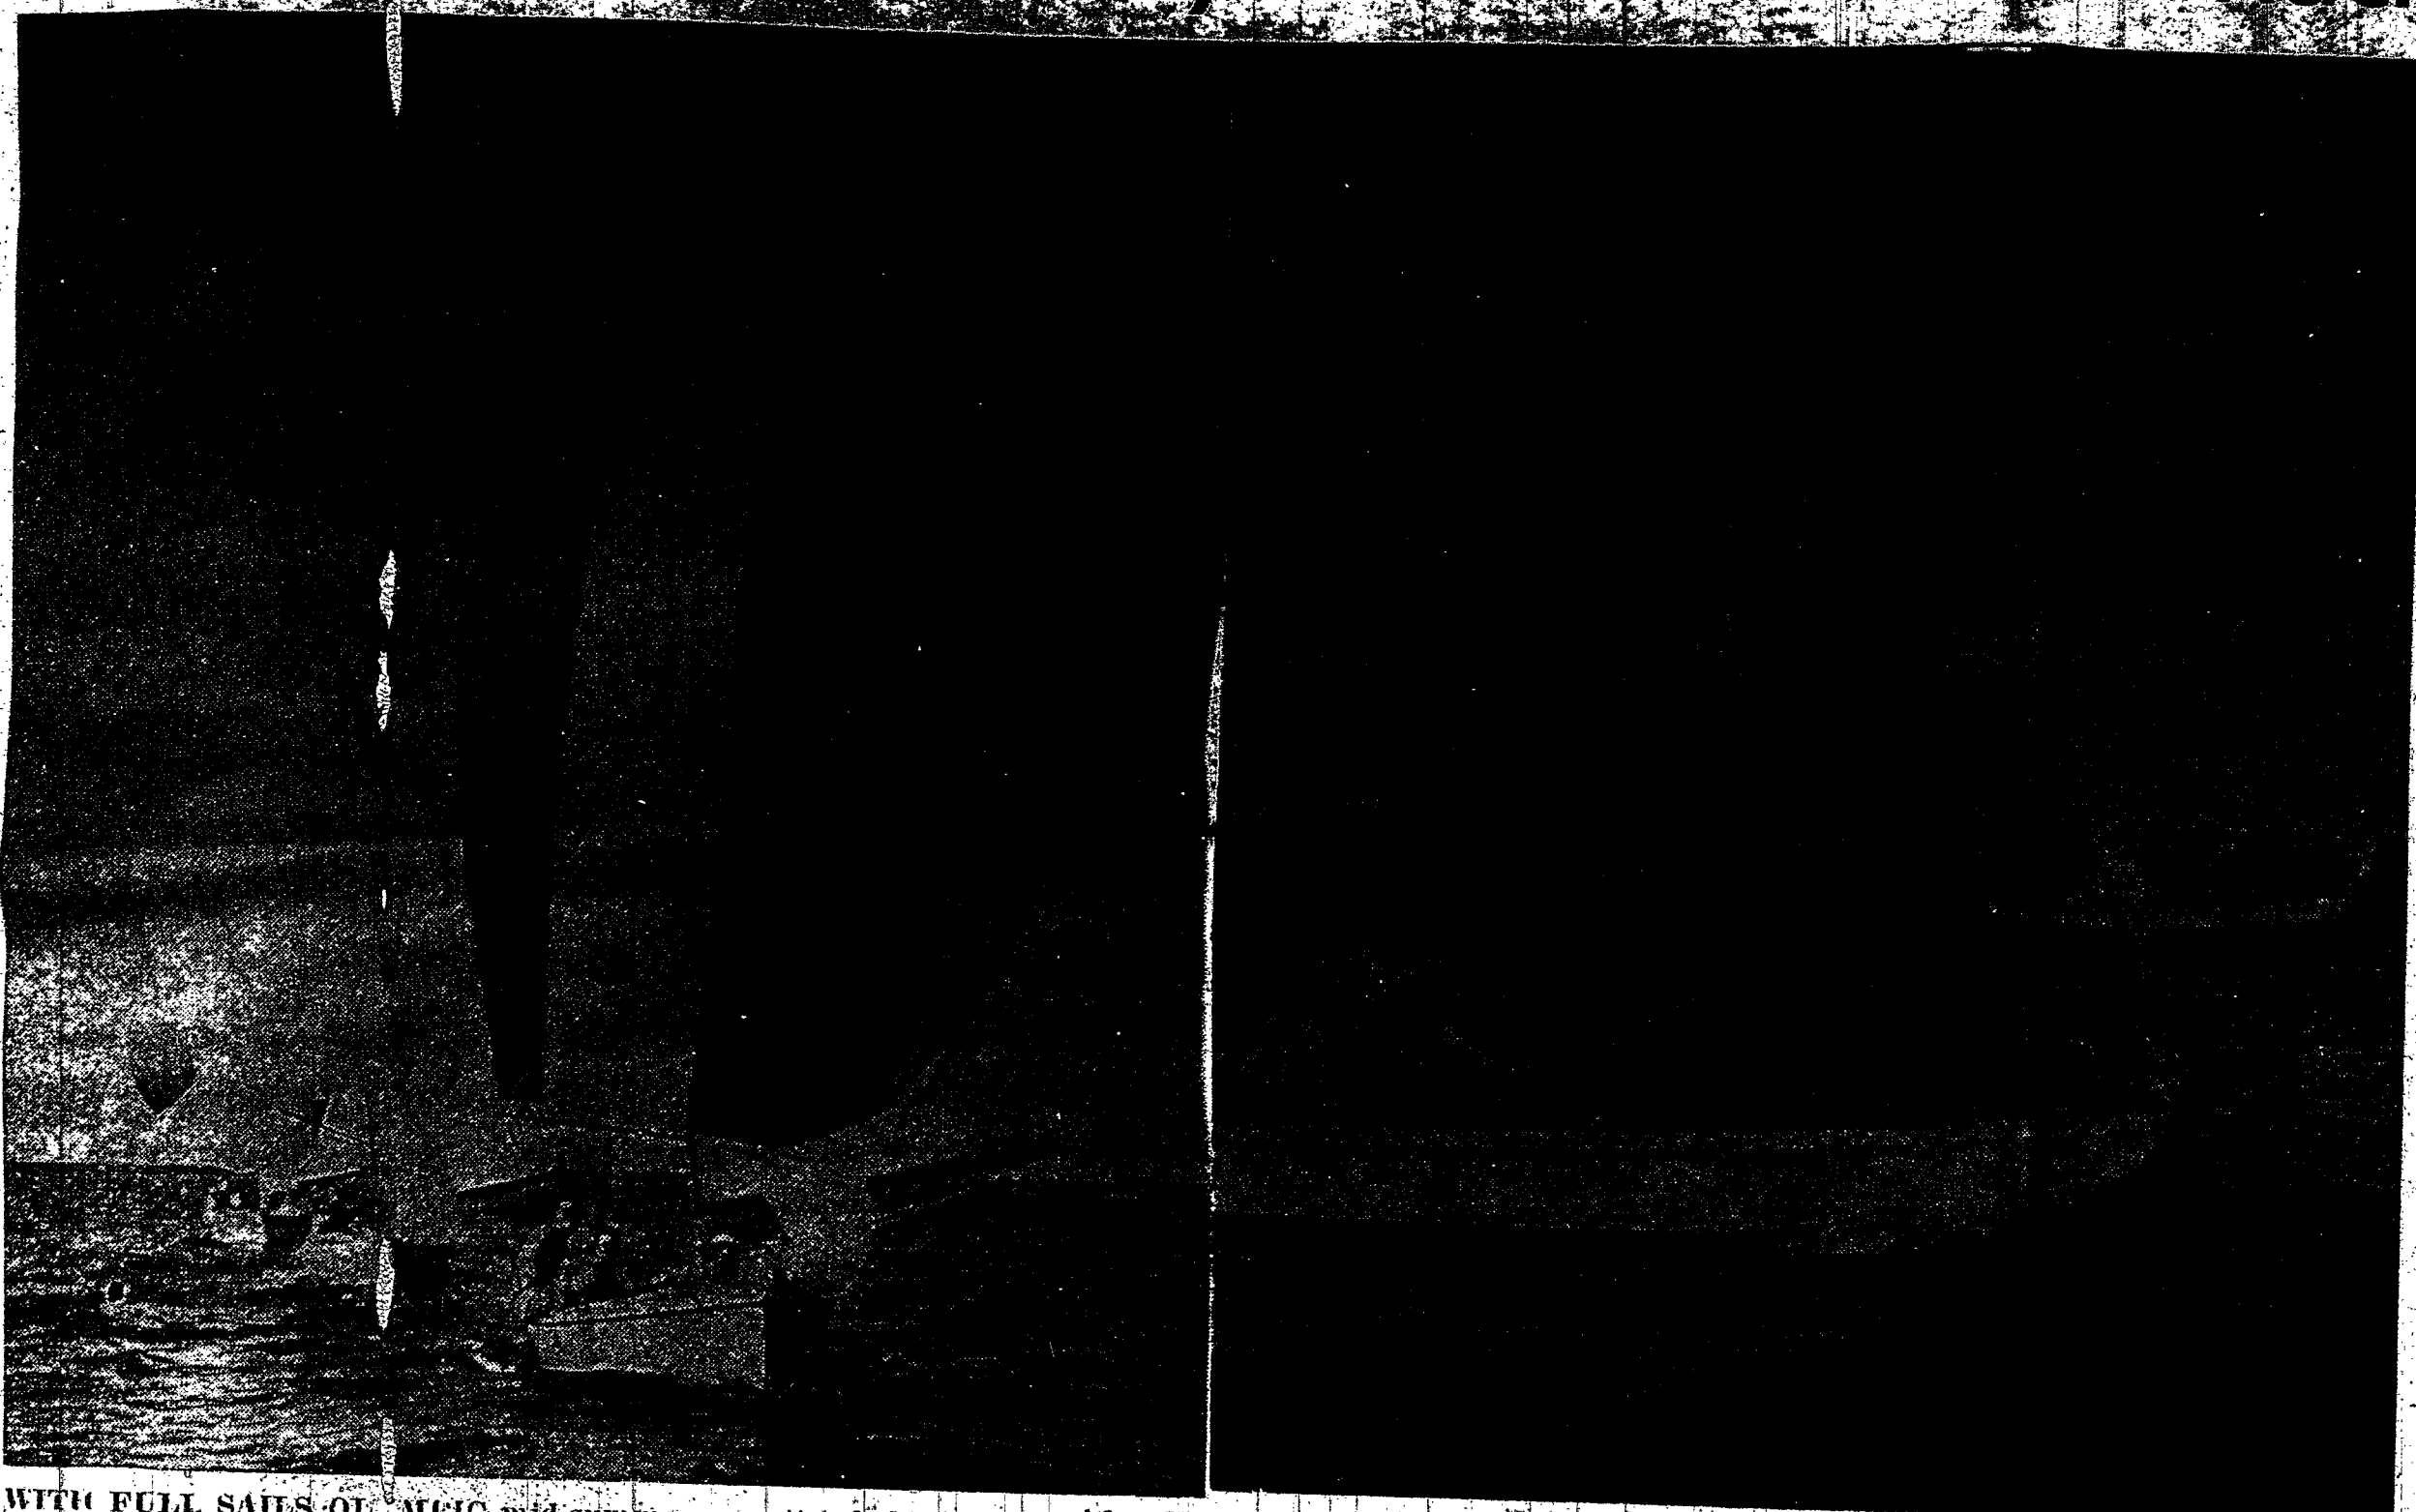

The Lord's Supper is not spiritual magic. To eat and to drink at this service can never impart any divine favor to cover one's sins. Salvation is not provided by a ceremony but by Christ. A person does not receive salvation by obedience but by faith. According to the New Testament, "by grace are ye saved through faith" (Ephesians 2:8). Observing the supper can add nothing to the free gift of divine pardon.

The Lord's Supper is a declaration of faith. By observing it, "Ye do shew the Lord's death till he come" (1 Corinthians 11:26). Christians thus declare their faith in Christ, who sacrificed his own life for the sins of others. They testify to the reality of Christ's continuing presence and pardoning power. And they affirm their faith in the certainty of his coming again.

The sacred importance of the Lord's Supper, therefore, arises from its meaning and purpose. It is a symbol of holiest truth: first, that Christ gave his life to restore men to God; second, that this restoration comes through partaking of Christ and Christ alone. The observance of the Lord's Supper vividly recalls Jesus' suffering for sin. Its observance furnishes new insights into the glory of the cross and moves people to follow Christ in a way of self-denial, sacrifice, and fidelity.

3-Day Series Marks Bay-Waveland Yacht Racing Activity

with Ed Overton, Fairhope, Ala., sailing in third place. Wynne, who went on to win the series, is shown in the second race.

Yacht Club's entry in the first fish class race. However, the SYC skippers went on to win the series by coping the final two races Saturday.

Lakeshore Notes

Olympic skipper Gene Walet led a rugged eight boat race across the finish line Sunday afternoon as a sailing fleet of 21 boats were tipped by blistering winds and seas from Bay St. Louis to New Orleans, all day.

Walet, sailing in the Dragon class, won with a time of 2:14:55, in the race that started from Bay St. Louis railroad bridge at 1:30 a.m., completing a three-day racing series at the local Yacht Club.

Walet's dominion over lightening class sailing came to a close Saturday in the BWYC's annual mid-summer regatta when Arthur Wynne soundly trounced the United States Olympic hopeful, gaining a "clean sweep" during the Gulf Coast Yachting series.

Wynne, sailing for the Southern Yacht Club of New Orleans, had earlier won both in Gulfport and Biloxi without Walet's racing against him. Walet with his Spirit II, placed first twice in the three race series, however a sixth place in the second race cost him victory as Wynne had places of second, first and second.

Miss Beth Doyle claimed honors for the BWYC by navigating her boat across the finish line first in the skipperette race Saturday, coping the trophy.

In the penguin class Peter Wuescher won all three races to take the series, while Buddy Jahneke claimed top laurels in the L-16 class.

Al Salzer totaled 84 points to win the Gulf one design class series, winning two races.

The Southern Yacht Club coping the fish class series, coming from behind to win the final races.

The dragon class, the division in which Walet will represent the USA in the Olympics, was won by Frank Nemec.

What Industry has provided 4/5 of funds for rural roads?

Until this year, the brewing industry was Mississippi's 4th largest taxpayer - providing 4 out of the $5 million in state funds for rural roads. The state's tax on malt beverages remained unchanged as one of the highest in the nation, but other legislative action will substantially reduce this important revenue.

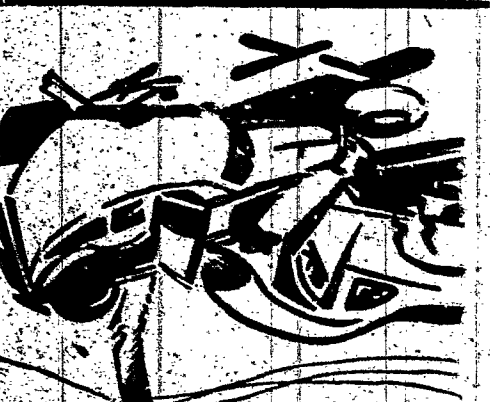

Beer is served in 69% of American homes and is so favored as the beverage of moderation that sales of beer in food stores now exceed all other beverages, except milk and coffee.

In Mississippi the beer industry employs 16,295 people. This many persons are carried on payrolls of the State's 57 wholesalers and more than 5,000 retailers. Wholesale and retailers in the legally regulated beer industry have an investment of over $28 million in Mississippi, including buildings, fixtures, trucks and equipment.
